Within the South African context there seems to be a lot of confusion about who civil society is and what it means. The term is often used loosely. Where civil society is organised though, it becomes a civil society organisation (CSO). CSOs are defined as organised civil society and can come in many forms, some informal and some as formal entities such as non-governmental organisations (NGOs), CBOs, faith-based organisations. Civil society and nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) have the power to influence individual behaviour and the institutions that are involved in healthy diet. This chapter identifies five major roles that civil society might play in global environmental NGOs and other civil society groups are not only stakeholders.
